

Picture Dictionary

animals

art

bag

bananas

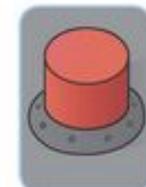

bell

birds

board

button

cafeteria

cell phone

classroom

computer

food

footprint

hallway

happy

idea

light

monkey

paint

picture

playground

rainforest

sad

shout

students

tail

teacher

throw

trees

van

window

'Where do you want to go?' asks Grandpa. 'School starts at nine o'clock, but it's eight o'clock now.'

'Can we go to the rainforest?' asks Ben.

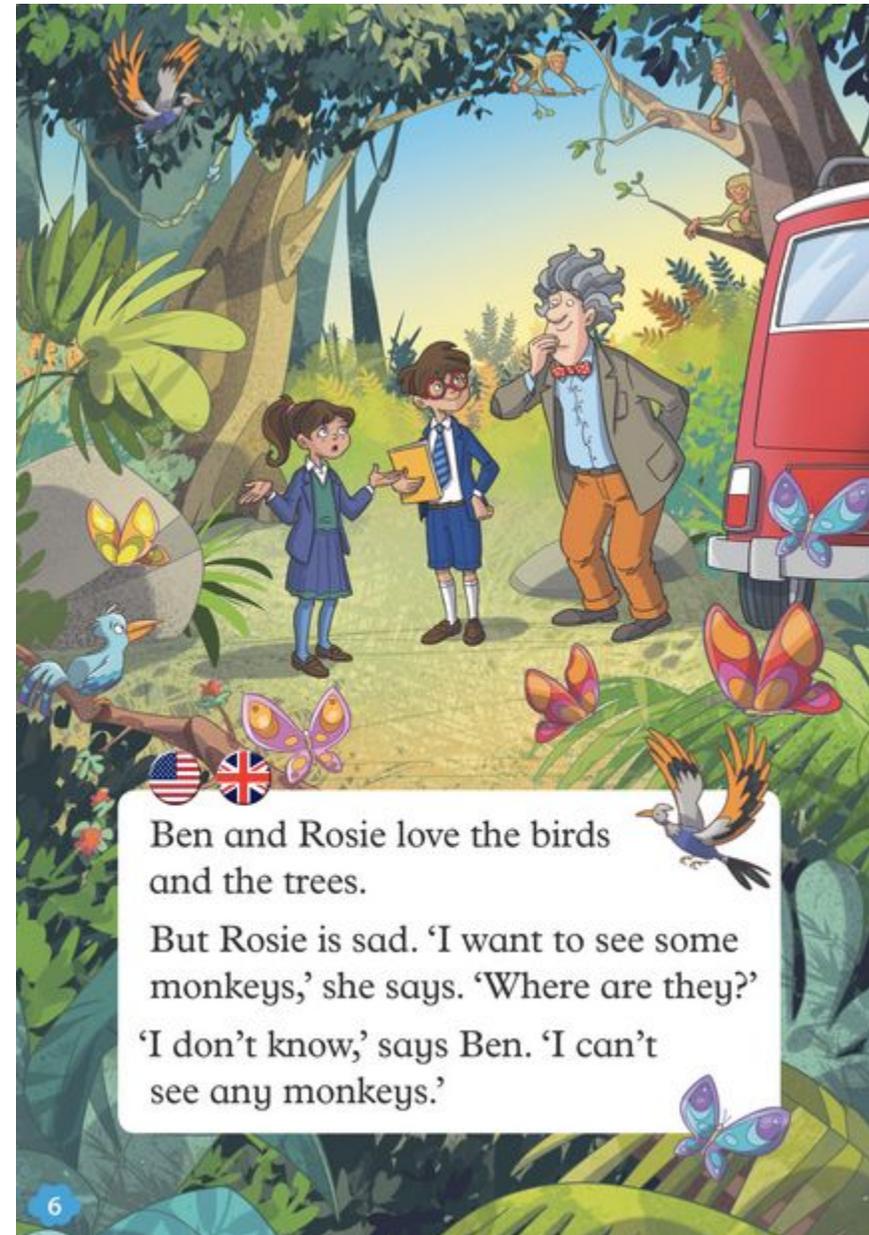

'Yes, please!' says Rosie. 'I want to see some monkeys!'

Clunk hits a button on the computer and there are lots of lights. The van drives into the lights and then ...

'We're here!' says Rosie. 'We're in the rainforest!'

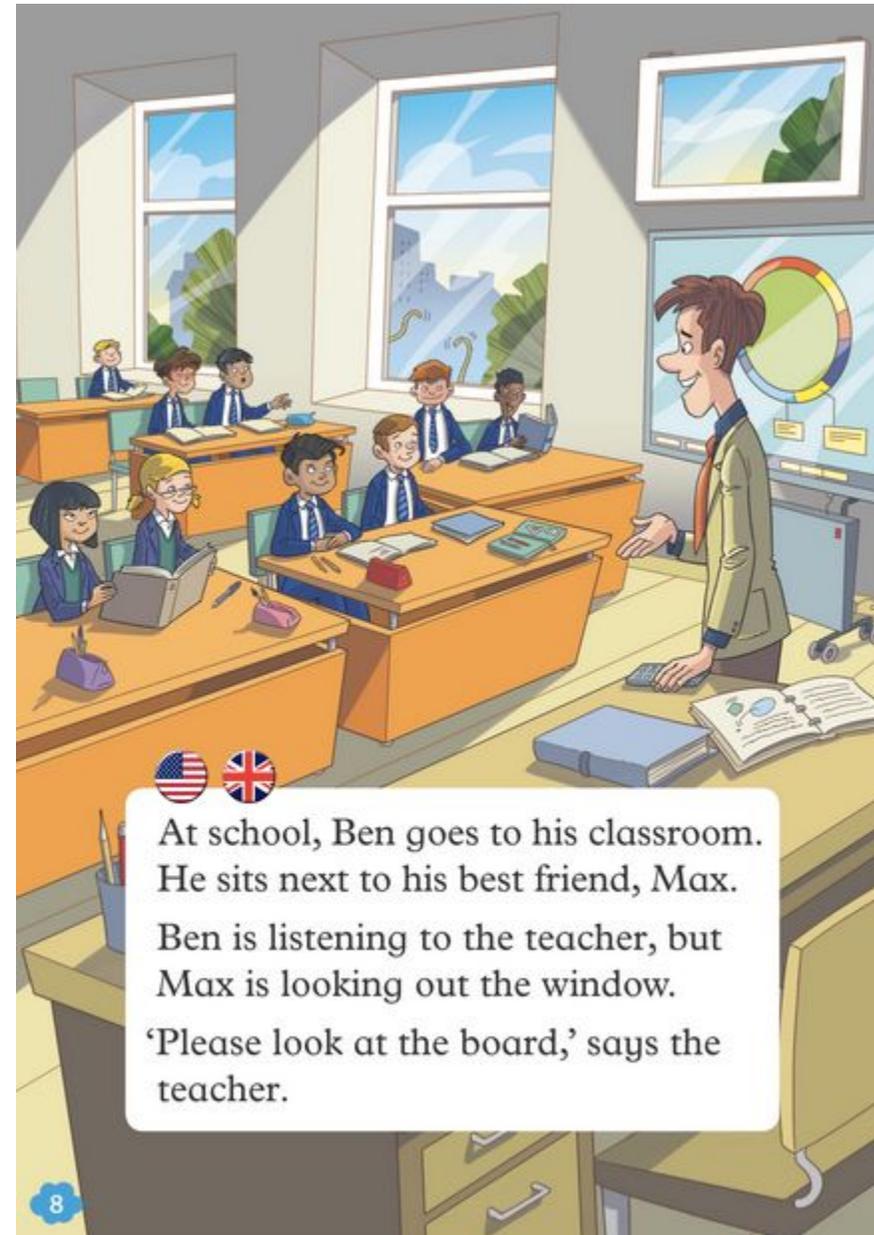

Ben and Rosie love the birds and the trees.
But Rosie is sad. 'I want to see some monkeys,' she says. 'Where are they?'
'I don't know,' says Ben. 'I can't see any monkeys.'

‘Sorry, Rosie,’ says Grandpa. ‘We can come again and look for monkeys. But now let’s take you to school!’

Clunk starts the van and drives. Some animals jump on the van, but Grandpa and the children don't see them. There are monkeys on the van!

At school, Ben goes to his classroom. He sits next to his best friend, Max. Ben is listening to the teacher, but Max is looking out the window. ‘Please look at the board,’ says the teacher.

'I'm sorry,' says Max. 'But I can see tails out the window!'

'TAILS?' asks the teacher.

He looks out the window, but now there are no tails there.

In the art classroom, Rosie is making a picture.

She stops.

'Are you OK, Rosie?' asks her teacher.

'I can hear animals in the hallway,' says Rosie.

The door opens ...

The monkeys run into the classroom.
The children are happy. They like monkeys!
The monkeys are quick. They jump on the desks. They shout and throw paint.
'Quick, students!' says the teacher. 'Go into the hallway!'

→ Go to page 23 for activities.

11

Ben and Max hear the school bell.
They go to the hallway.
Students are talking about the monkeys in the art classroom.
'Where are the monkeys from?' asks one boy.
Ben knows the answer – the monkeys come from the rainforest!

12

The boys go and find Ben's bag.
Ben takes out his cell phone.
'Hello, Grandpa,' he says. 'Please come to the school!'

Hello, Grandpa.

Ben looks at Max. 'Grandpa's coming. Let's find Rosie.'

They see Rosie in the hallway. 'The monkeys aren't in the art classroom
now,' she says. She points to the floor.
There's a line of footprints in blue and red paint.

'Look,' she says. 'Those footprints go to the cafeteria!'

'Oh no!' says Max.

Oh no!

The three children run to the cafeteria.
The monkeys are there. They're jumping and eating food.
'They're hungry!' says Ben.
'Look,' says Max. 'They like the food at our school!'

→ Go to page 25 for activities.

15

Now Ben can see the van out the cafeteria window.

'Grandpa's here!' he says. 'Let's take the monkeys to the van.'

'How?' asks Max. 'They're too quick!'

'I have an idea!' says Rosie.

I have an idea!

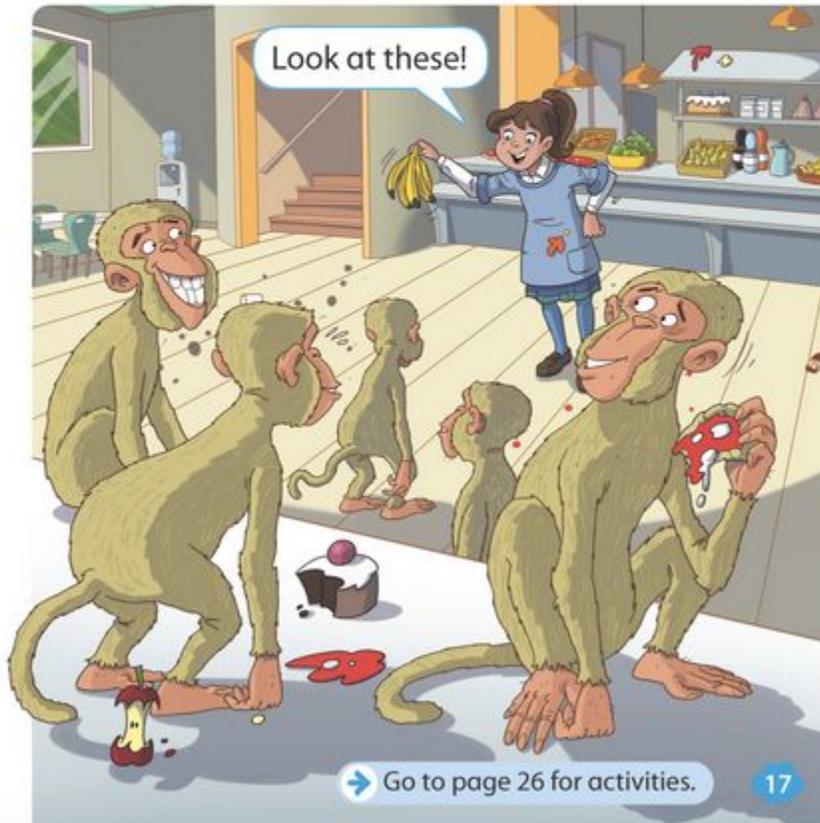

16

Rosie runs to the table and takes the bananas.

‘Here!’ she shouts. ‘Look at these!’

The monkeys look at the bananas.
Bananas are their favorite food!

They run to Rosie.

Rosie throws the bananas out the window. The hungry monkeys jump out the window, too.

Now some bananas are in Grandpa's van. The monkeys jump into the van.

‘Close the doors, Clunk!’ says Grandpa.
‘Let's take these monkeys home!’

Ben's teacher runs into the cafeteria.
'Where are those monkeys?' he asks.
'They're going home,' says Ben.

The End