

The background of the image is a textured, reddish-brown surface, likely a cave wall, covered in various prehistoric paintings. In the upper half, there are several human figures in red ochre, some standing and some in dynamic poses. To the right, a large animal, possibly a bison or aurochs, is painted in a similar red hue. The lower half of the image shows more animals, including a large mammoth or bison on the left and a long-necked deer or stag on the right, all rendered in earthy tones. The overall scene is a classic representation of Paleolithic cave art.
