

Between balconies and windows

And suddenly balconies and windows have a life of their own, with the light of people's voices and the applause to give the thank you. Art and humor come out of the heart with human solidarity. While some are dancing, singing, celebrating moonlight birthdays, the little ones colour the banner rainbow, leaving reason and truth, sleeping like lonely islands between dreams of hope.

By Naiara Gómez and Melani Manzanilla