

WHAT I LEARNT ON LOCKDOWN

How much a photograph can transmit to us! How little importance we give to hugging people when we do that action.

We have to learn to value the things we have, it is a consciousness that very few people have.

Thanks to lockdown, we really appreciate the value of those little things.

