How to...

Group B

Short video tutorials or "how to" videos are more and more common every day.

ICT skills are essential in our society. That is why some of our ESO 2 students have created their own "how to" videos, as part of our project for unit 3.

The topic was free and the purpose was to teach something useful to other people. The videos you can see here are a small sample of the many that were created. These belong to the bravest students who agreed to share them on our website. Click on them to watch them!
