

1 ESO MUSIC IN ENGLISH SUMMER FUN!

Practise your music skills this summer with these great websites. Have fun and share your recommendations with your classmates after the summer!

1. RedKaraoke

www.redkaraoke.com/search-songs/Party-Songs/3?lang=en

A great game for playing with friends, this free site allows you to sing karaoke online and get a score for your performance, then challenge others or try to improve! No fancy equipment needed – just use your computer’s inbuilt microphone and get started!

2. Virtual Drumming

www.virtualdrumming.com/drums/windows/drums-free-drumming.html

This cool online drum kit allows you to explore the different sounds and rhythms of a drum kit simply by using the keys on the computer keyboard to activate different drums and cymbals.

3. Chrome MusicLab

www.musiclab.chromeexperiments.com/

This fantastic free online music lab gives the opportunity to make a sophisticated track using a range of musical styles and techniques. A pre-loaded online sound library with hundreds of different instrumental sounds and beats makes it fun and easy to create original pieces.

4. Monkey Machine

www.rinki.net/pekka/monkey

This fantastic, fun online machine allows you to create your own drumbeat using over 20 high-quality drum kits. Use it to create a rhythmic backing track to a song or improvised piece of music.

5. Music Memory Game

www.learninggamesforkids.com/music_and_art_games

This fantastic, simple online game is great for listening by ear, as it challenges you to listen to a series of notes and then try to reproduce them in the right order by selecting the correct notes from the musical scale. As you succeed with each level, more notes are added, making it challenging and rewarding as you learn and progress!

6. Tony-B Machine

www.tony-b.org

This cool retro-look tool is sure to be a big hit as it simplifies the process of online music-making by connecting different notes and musical sounds to the different keys of the computer keyboard!

What are your favourite online music resources to make music online?

Let us know!