A mysterious friend

Many, many years ago, in a small village, there was an orphanage next to the Nightmoon forest. In the orphanage, there were two girls: Emily and Olivia, the best friends. They were very close good friends. One night, everyone was asleep, but Emily and Olivia were awake. Suddenly, a fire started in the orphanage, and Olivia ran in the depth of the forest. Emily was the unique to survive. She was adopted two weeks later and heard Olivia's voice yell "You have abandoned me, I thought we would always be friends". Emily was very sad and she missed Olivia.

23 years later, Emily went on a walk in the Nightmoon forest , the forest where, years before, Olivia was missing. Emily walked until she arrived into the forest. That day, the sky was cloudy. Emily walked until she arrived on a cliff. Suddenly, she heard the crack of a branch, Emily looked under the tree, and it was there... Olivia! She was dressed in the dress of the night of the fire.

-Hello Emily! Wait, are you scared?

-N, no! I'm ve, very ha, happy!

- You, you have abandoned me! Now you will die!

Olivia pushed Emily until the cliff, and Emily fell. And Emily died.

The End?

A haunted forest

Everyone in Eiffel Woods knew to stay away from the forest on the top of the town mountain. They called it the haunted forest. But a ten-year-old girl called Anna didn't believe in ghosts. She thought these stories were just made to scare little kids.

One cold October evening, she decided to prove everyone was wrong. With a torch, Anna passed the “KEEP OUT” sign and went into the forest.

The forest seemed cold and dead, but suddenly Anna heard a soft whisper.

-”Anna....”

“It's just the wind”, she told herself.

She was walking, through crunching leaves when the whisper grew louder, and she noticed some shadows there weren't the trees.

Anna felt really scared, her torch landed on the ground and an old swing was moving slowly and no one was on it. Then she saw some small footprints behind her, and heard another whisper “- come and play with us... Anna-”. That was enough for Anna. She ran as fast as she could until she arrived home.

The next morning, when she told her friends everything she heard and saw in the forest, they didn't believe her. Since this day, the swing is still moving without breeze.

A crazy scientist

In the year 2022, in Madrid happened a very surprising thing. We were on holidays, we were Harry, Ivan, Alex and Philip. We saw a scientist enter to the laboratory. Harry the bravest entered the laboratory. At the moment, he listened to the noise of a chainsaw. We were scared, we entered the laboratory and saw that Harry was dead. We ran scared. We planned a plan. The plan was to revive Harry.

Philip and Alex looked for a potion. Ivan kept the laboratory to see what happened. When Philip and Alex came back, I went in and turned off the chainsaw, I grabbed a potion there of the machine and threw it at the scientist's head, and he died and Harry revived.

The mystery at the amusement park

A dark Halloween night, four friends: Carla, Alex, Mark and Oscar were at Alex's house watching the news on TV.

The TV news program was announcing that at the town's amusement park, children are disappearing. A total of 11 children disappeared in the last 3 weeks. Something very strange was happening and, the four friends wanted to investigate it, so they took their bicycles and went to the amusement park that was located inside a dark forest next to the town. When they arrived, they found six police officers who were investigating. The children told the police that they had just found a blue shoe.

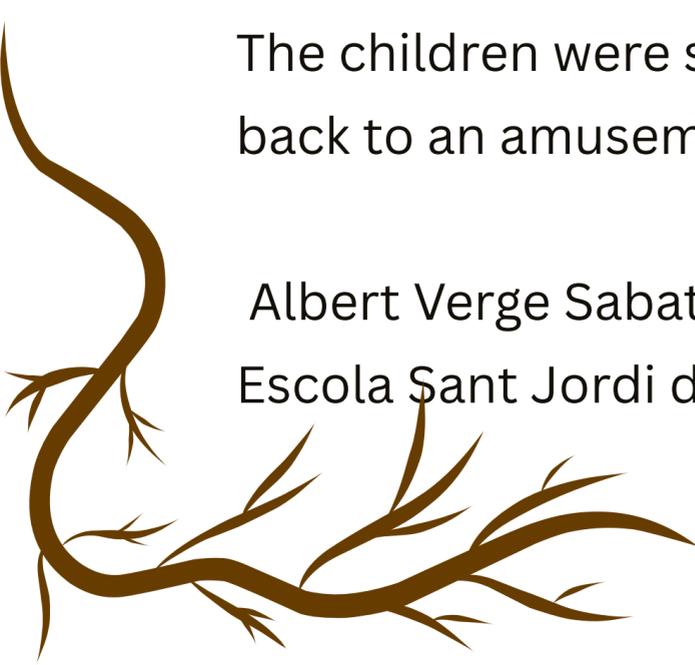

There was only one man in the park dressed as a clown who worked there cleaning. His appearance was suspicious and he had a scary appearance. The children checked out the park's attractions for hours in case they found any clue and found nothing. When they were about to leave, Oscar tripped over an iron that was on the floor and a door opened. The children entered, frightened and intrigued at the same time. Down there was a corridor full of clown costumes and at the end of a corridor, they found a windowless room where all the missing boys and girls were locked.

The liberated children explained that the clown had kidnapped them to do an experiment.

While they were talking, the clown saw them and started chasing them and almost caught Marc, but his friends immediately saved him. The clown screamed: I'LL BE BACK!!!

The children were so scared they promised that they never went back to an amusement park or anywhere where there were clowns.

The mysterious room

Once upon a time in one distant village its name was Paüls there was a big room of the horror tunnel, in this room disappeared many children.

No one knew why, except one priest, his name was Pablo. Pablo knew why disappeared, it was because there was a hidden room in the big room of horror tunnel.

Who took the children was the kidnapper spirit, the most wanted in Catalonia.

The priest was many years investigating to find where was the hidden room because it was where his son disappeared.

After 3 years investigate he found his son in the hidden room, but the spirit wanted to take the children, but the priest took the cross of God and recited a few words to make disappear the spirit.

A terrifying excursion

Once upon a time, a girl who was called Leah, the class of the school and her went to an excursion in a dangerous forest with tents for camping. When they arrived, they did some activities, then they ate a sandwich, and later they went to sleep in the tents in the camping.

At half past three in the morning, Leah was starting to get scared because she listened to some steps as if they were some kind of disgusting insect. Leah was becoming more and more nervous, until she called out to her friends who were sleeping in the tents.

-John, Naddesha, Alex, Kavindu, Ruth, Gina!!! (Who were some of his best and most trusted fiends) Come here! Come here! You know what happened, just now? While I was sleeping, I heard some kind of disgusting footsteps. And they said:

-”Nothing’s wrong.”

When they finished talking, they all went to the tents. The hours passed, and suddenly an alarm sounded and said:

-Zombies are starting to come and eating all the boys and girls they see before their eyes. Run, run!!

Leah and her friends ran and ran very fast. When they were far away, they called their parents to come and get them. Paul and Tatiana, Leah’s parents, were already there. Then Leah got in the car, and when they went home, she told them everything that happened. They arrived home and got out of the car. Leah turned her head and saw all the zombies behind her. She started running to get into the house. She went to sleep thinking about the zombies, scared...

The mystery of the detective and the red masks

A long time ago in a small town called Pillow Dark, there was a detective, John Creek, known for solution the strangest cases in town.

One stormy October afternoon, John was about to close his office when the phone suddenly rang. “Detective Creek, you have to come to the old theatre... they’re back” said a nervous voice.

The old Pillow Dark Theatre had been abandoned for years. Ten years ago, a group of actors performed there every 31st of October. On Halloween eve, they disappeared on the stage wearing red masks.

Now, John was standing in front of the dark theatre without moving when he suddenly listened a strange sound on the stage and the theatre red curtain rose opened, revealing the five red masks sitting on the stage. John froze when one of the red masks landed at his feet. He piked it up and inside the mask there was a note “The show must go on”. Suddenly, the lights explode and some figures in red masks stepped out of the shadows.

“Who are you?” John shouted. Everything went silent. The next morning, when people arrived, the theatre was in silence again, there was only a single red mask left. There were red masks on the detective’s desk with a note on it’s back: “Thank you for joining the show”. And no one saw Detective John Creek again.

The meeting that never happened

The 17th of September in a village in Finland, a group of teenagers: Sofia, Mia, Jacob, Fleur, Klaus and Nadisha went on Holidays in a rural house. The teens decided to go to the convent of a village, but this was not a good idea. When they arrived, they found a girl sitting at the door of the convent. The girl came closer to the group and said -Hey! Do you want to be my friends? -Yes! Said Mia, a girl of the group.

They entered in the convent, and in it, they played football, investigated the convent and more.

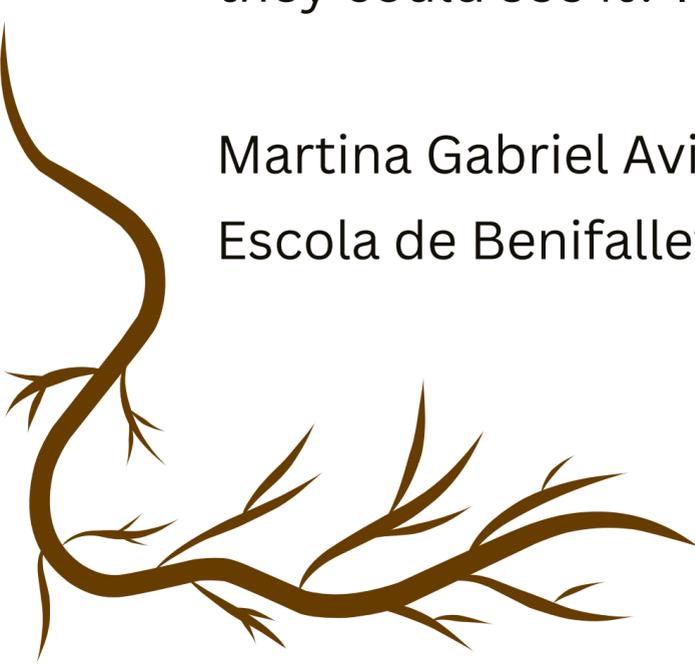

Fleur asked the girl about her name and age. -My name is Lyna, and I am 13 years old. Sofia distrusted Lyna. She's a very mysterious girl.

Latter, Lyna shared his WhatsApp to talk when they left for their village. The night passed very fast. At 11 o'clock at night, the teens went to their houses.

The next day, Jacob woke up with a headache, but he went down very tired. While having breakfast, they explained that the last night they played with a girl. The mother of Mia (when she was little, lived in this village) put a scary face and said that in this village no children lived. The only girl who lived in this village disappeared many years ago. The guys described the girl and the mother said to them: -Yes! This is the girl who disappeared.

So the previous night, did the teen's play with a ghost because they could see it? It's a big mystery...

The Japan tunnel

In 1999, a Catalan family decided to take a trip to Japan. The children were called Monica, Rafel and Alice. They were very excited. They travelled with their parents Carme and Òscar.

One rainy autumn night, the family arrived at the Japan airport. It was really late, and they decided to rent a car to get them from the airport to the hotel. The family was driving through Japan mountains when they took a wrong turn and ended in an old, narrow road located between dark trees. At the end of the road there was a tunnel the GPS didn't show. A sign on the top read: Kiyotaki Tunnel.

The father, who was driving, said. "It'll get us to the hotel faster" so they drove inside.

The tunnel was damp and silent. Halfway through, the car headlights flashed something shiny, a mirror standing in the middle of the tunnel.

All the family members decided to get out of the car to have a closer look at the enormous mirror in front of them.

Then Monica pointed: "Mom... why is there another car behind us?"

All of them turned and froze. In the mirror there was an identical car to theirs, and five people were standing in front of them with big smiles. Suddenly, the mirror shimmered, and the tunnel lights went out. When the lights came back on, the family and the car was disappeared.

A few months later, road workers found the tunnel empty, only a huge mirror was there...

Ten nights in the forest

Everyone in Forest Hollow knew: never camp in dark wood Forest for more than one night. But three friends (Adam, Clara and Daudid) didn't believe the story. They thought it was just a silly old legend. So, on the first night of their summer holidays, they decided to pack their tents and snacks and went into the forest for ten nights.

The first night was peaceful. But when they woke up in the morning, they found a new tent stood beside theirs with a note inside: Welcome.

The second night, they heard foot steps around their camp and two empty tents were beside theirs with another note inside: we are watching you.

The third night Clara's camera turned on by itself. In the morning, they checked the photos, they showed three sleeping bags and behind them a tall shadow.

The fourth night the friends decided to leave the forest but, when they followed their trail back, every direction led them a circle and brought them to the camp again. Now there were four tents.

From the fifth night until the ninth night the whispers and the cold were knocking their tents and every morning, another tent appeared and every night, another shadow joined the circle around the fire.

The tenth night only one tent was standing in the camp. A park ranger found it a week later with a single note inside: "Ten nights. Ten shadows. We stayed too long". No one ever found the three friends.

The secret river

A boy was walking next to the river and fell. He nearly died. Ten years later, he had a daughter of four years old. When the daughter was seven years old she died in a school bus. The man was very angry because when he was seven years old it happened to him in the river too. The man went to speak with his woman that they could not have more children, because all will die. The woman didn't listen to her husband, they had more children, but all died.

The priest did a ritual that lasted ten minutes, but it seemed it worked. They had a daughter but at ten years old she died. The woman went to a shop where they predict the future. They said they could not have daughters. The woman arrived at her house and saw her man commit suicide. The woman came to the corridor and went missing.

They say if you go to the house, you can disappear at corridors like the women.

The nightmare that changed my life

On Monday 27th of October 2025, everyone at Sant Jordi School was nervous. It was vaccination day, the day the school nurse gave us our yearly shots. The library was turned into a mini hospital with folding chairs, needles, and the smell of rubbing alcohol in the air. It seemed a morning like another.

Two nurses in white robes were decided to do their job. I was very nervous and scared, that's because I hate injections since I was a child. I was sitting on a wood chair thinking about my next coaching when I heard my name, nurses called me because it was my turn.

One of them injected me a rare substance. In the afternoon when I arrived home I started feeling so weird I decided to go to bed early. That night, I couldn't sleep well. At midnight, I felt a lot of pain at the place in my arm where the nurse gave me the injection. Then, I decided to wake up and get out of bed. I turned on the light and looked me on the mirror, my surprise was that my nails were growing really fast and my teeth had turned into fangs.

-Oh, no !! I was really scared. My body now is a werewolf body. -AAAAAAHHH

Disappeared

Many, many years ago, Bruno disappeared in Benifallet and his mother Marta and his father Pere were looking for him during 4 years.

Marta and Pere didn't give up because they still had expectancy. “- I still hear Bruno as if he was still alive or a ghost near me-”. Said the mother.

The police continued searching, but the dogs didn't find anything.

They are all worried, they say that if they ever see him they will call their parents.

They were confined for a few months after the disappearance and are about to do it again but they are trying to live a normal life.

What will happen?

One scary day

I am Mary, an ordinary 10 years old girl with an extraordinary story. On the 31st of October three kids went to investigate new places in town but... In a tunnel they suddenly disappeared and never reappeared.

Since that happened, the children spirits walked through the tunnel and you could hear them screaming.

When the children disappeared, their voices remained as they talked to each other...

The police went in to investigate what was happening but they could never finish knowing what happened to the children. Once a man came in and was out of breath.

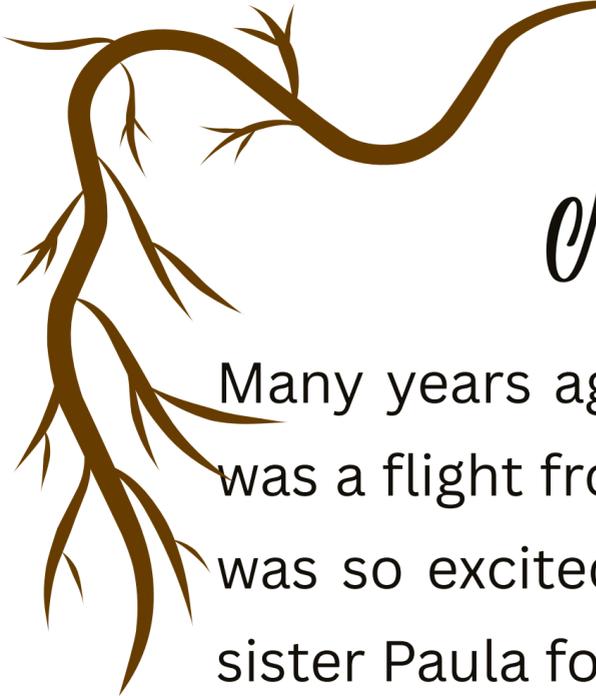

People still haven't found out how the children disappeared but when never they came in no one came out.

I discovered that people were disappearing because there was a horrifying monster that was kidnapping children to eat them.

Monsters on the plane

Many years ago, a strange incident happened on a plane. It was a flight from Barcelona to California. The Sanchez family was so excited for their vacation. Mom, dad, Max and little sister Paula found their seats on Flight 97896 to Los Angeles. Everything was ready and the plane took off. As the plane took off, Paula, the little family member, pressed her face against the window and looked down at the city lights. Everything was normal until Paula saw something moving on the plane wing.

At first, she thought it was her imagination, but she saw it again. This time she saw a creature with long arms, black skin and glowing yellow eyes.

- "Mom!" Paula whispered. "There is something on the plane wing!"

Other passengers turned confused, but the flight attendant had a look and the window was empty.

The pilot's voice came over the speakers "Ladies and gentlemen, please remain seated. We're experiencing a little turbulence". But the turbulence wasn't from the weather. Something was shaking the plane.

Suddenly, the captain shouted over the speakers "Everyone - brace for impact!". Then everything was dark.

When Paula woke up, she was lying in her seat and everything was in the normal way. She realized that it had all been a nightmare.
